

Mozart's Messy Room

Our parents make us mind.
They tell us all the time.
Clean up your room; don't put you elbows on the table.
Drink your milk : keep your mouth closed when you chew (if you are able)
Don't forget take the trash out, feed the dog and watch your brother.
Don't talk back: do the dishes and be good to one another!

All kids across the world agree: why can't a messy bedroom be?
We think that it's a mystery to want a bedroom clean!
O, why do parents want their kids to have clean rooms?

(Part 2)

Scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub,
Scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub!
Scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub!
Soap is something very scary!
Scrub, scrub, scrub, scrub!
Kid dirt is quite ordinary!

We'd rather leave,
Clothes on the floor
To hang them up,
is such a bore,
with all our stuff,
strewn all around,
is how we'd like our bedroom Pretty please? Oh pretty please ?
Oh pretty please? Oh pretty please?
Let's misbehave!
Just this once let's have a messy room!

(Part 1)

O what fear, to have to bring the soap in here.
It's our dirt to remove it might just hurt!
We,
We'd rather leave
Clothes on the floor
To hang them up
is such a bore,
with all our stuff
strewn all around,
is how we'd like our bedroom found!
Mom, Dad please!
Just this once let's misbehave,
and have a messy, messy, messy, messy, (how we'd love to keep it messy) room!

(Both)

Looking like a hurricane inside my messy room;
like the wreckage of a train inside our messy room;
We'd love it!

Messy rooms are hard to depart
Clutter is in fact an art!
We'll do what you ask and keep our elbows off the table, Drink our milk keep our mouth closed when we chew (for we are able)
Won't forget to take the trash out feed the dog or watch our brother Won't talk back, do the dishes and be good to one another.

So, we think now you should say “yes” to have a bedroom that’s a mess!
Let’s have a day when you’ll agree to let a messy bedroom be!

Hallelujah! Hallelujah! What good parents!
Looking like a hurricane inside my messy room;
Like the wreckage of a train inside our messy room;
How lovely!

There’s one more thing we must say, just before we’re on our way;
Cleanliness is a virtue, but a little dirt won’t hurt you!
We know that it may be grating, but thank you for contemplating;
Letting loose the hurricane inside my messy room;
Like the wreckage of a train inside our messy room;

We thank you! Thank you! Thank you! Thank you!
